VOTE 1 FOR LAISE "D" (GOVERNMENT) CONTROLLER NOVEMBER 5th

The Legislature and not the Moderationists are responsible for the wording of Clause "D" and it is the Legislature that will have to interpret it. It is evident however that it was not intended to and will not mean the return of the BAR SYSTEM. The Government and the Legislature being a democratic body depend on the people for their support and they recognize that the people of Alberta both Prohibitionists and Moderationists are against it and they would not dare to legislate in the face of popular opinion.

There are many ways in which the consumption of beer on licensed premises can be regulated without restoring the bar system and we may rest assured that it is one of these systems the Government will adopt rather than one which is objectionable to the people.

BANK AMALGAMATIONS

The chief question of conversation and concern in Canada, today, is the future of our banks and our Canadian banking system.

Canadian banking has come to a standstill and, whether you will admit it or not, our banks will not continue to exist in their present form.

The question of amalgamation is not a new one. It has been discussed for years and years and it is now being discussed again.

The amalgamation of banks is a necessary step in the development of a modern banking system.

POPPIE DAY CAMPAIGN

Sixty-eight cases of poppies, containing one hundred and thirty thousand, have been received by the Poppy Day Headquarters in the Province of Alberta, and the staff has been increased in order that all orders for poppies are met without delay.

While most of the towns in the province are already booked up, it is the earnest desire of the officials to have every town, large or small, supplied with poppies in order that the citizens may take this emblem of reverence to our fallen soldiers who fell in the great cause of humanity.

"The Citizen" of Ottawa, writes recently upon speaking at Montreal recently upon the work done by the Canadian in the poppy campaign.

Now—the Exide first cost is low

For a great many years Exide has been known as the long-life battery. It stays on the job so long that thousands of car owners have found it to be by far the most economical battery in the end. At the present prices of Exide Batteries, even the first cost is low. Now, no man need deny himself the satisfaction of getting a willing, rugged Exide. It will serve you so long and with so little expense for upkeep that you will find it the soundest kind of economy.

The quality remains the same that has brought worldwide acceptance of Exide as the standard storage battery. Exide was on the first electrically started automobile in 1911. Today, more new cars leave the factories equipped with Exides than with any other battery.

For your comfort and for the sake of economy, go to the nearest Exide Service Station and get the Exide Battery made for your Car.

len, but if directions were obeyed he guaranteed satisfaction. Besides the twenty-four Bishops there were to be in attendance, twenty-four members of the Southcott sect and one neutral attorney. A suitable home is to be hired for the occasion, and one condition is that it shall be close to a hotel or in a place. The box is to be kept in the vault or cellar of the house for three days before the great event. It is provided also that the bishops and the followers as well as the lone neutral shall improve their minds, and while away the hours of the first day in reading the account of Joanna's trial and in discussing such questions as may naturally arise from the exercise.

The Bishops Talk.
The second day there will be a sign from the Lord of great importance. "On the third day the sealed writings are to be cut open and examined. "If the verdict of the Bishops be against the writings they may be burnt."

It seems simple enough. The catch is it is to get twenty-four Bishops to spend three days in such circumstances. It is simply impossible to imagine them going through the program which includes a day of disputation with the believers in Joanna's teachings. They would no doubt prefer to debate with a class of fresh thinkers. Nevertheless the Southcottians insist that they are advancing unworthy quibbles and are blind to the vast importance of the issues at stake. The point is of course, that the Bishops regard the whole thing as preposterous. The average Bishop might almost prefer to abandon his diocese rather than indulge in any such rites as Joanna prescribed. Yet the campaign in the press continues and the Archbishop of Canterbury has been goaded to public utterance.

The Archbishop Speaks
He announces that he has repeatedly urged that the box shall be opened forthwith, and has done his very best to secure that this shall be done. He is willing personally to attend the opening. He says, however, that there are several boxes in existence, each claiming to be the depository of the secrets of Joanna Southcott, and that the conditions imposed by those in charge of the box, or boxes, would make the whole proceeding farcical. To this it is replied that there are only two boxes, but one is for the government and the Bishop have nothing to do with it. The genuine box is said to have been left in the custody of the vicar of North Cadbury, in Staffordshire. Its present whereabouts is kept secret, but is known to a select few Southcottians who will convey the necessary information to the Bishops when twenty-four of them get ready to act. We predict that they will not act, and that the agitation will presently die down, only to be revived in a few years, and again die down and come to life.

him of his official duties following the submission by the lower house of a bill of impeachment against him. The impeachment bill charged the executive with entering into a "corrupt agreement" with Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, to place T. F. Edwards, the governor's personal chauffeur, on the payroll of the health department at $200 a month; and that thereby "certain monies were diverted from the state-putting event, thus carrying off two gold medals. He was third in the javelin-throwing contest.

T. W. Chester, Ardenville, brought in a new variety of beet into the city, which is a very early variety.
It is particularly best anyway had some new-fangled attachments—whether improvements or not we leave it to you—the small rat at the bottom is a well developed iron washer—probably this is a spontaneous effort on the part of the vegetable to protect itself with iron armour against cold worms or other dangers—at any rate the new-fangled beet can be seen in the windows of the Times Office and seed has been sown by Mr. Chester, who figures if he is successful in his propagation and the washers don't all run to one size—the product next year may save him a nest run on his hardware bill.

CARD OF THANKS

J. E. Gardiner begs to return his heartfelt thanks to all those who so willingly assisted him in taking out his office furniture and fixtures on the occasion of the fire last Friday morning. By the kind efforts put forth on his behalf everything in the office was saved—there was absolutely no loss.

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS

Vegetables and Fruits are still plentiful. Ontario Grapes 66c per basket. Pears and Apples are very enticing. Did you ever taste Egg Plant?—If not you have missed the best of your lives. When properly cooked many take them for mysters—others a beautiful fresh egg with a wee drop of vinegar a pinch of pepper and salt, swallowed whole, or what the old-timers call a prairie chicken. But try an Egg Plant, and don't experiment in cooking one before asking the grocery department to tell you the southern recipe—then it will be delicious. We can call your attention to dozens of different varieties of fruits and vegetables, but we have to divide this ad in half to give the dry goods people a show.

BARGAINS

In fact every day is Bargain Day—the goods are ticketed in the window—on the show case, or any old place to catch your eye. Odd lines of shoes and hosiery at ridiculous prices. We want to keep a clean, well-assorted stock, and this can't be done without sacrificing shop-worn goods or different lines that are slow sellers. It may be heartrending for us to sell for, and often below cost—but our pain is made bearable by your pleasure and joy in saving the mighty dollar.

NEXT WEEK

We intend to take out all the old bargains that are left in the window and make a further reduction on them and clear them out—

THEN

We will make a window display of Prints, Gingham, Satens, Cotton Cashmeres for school dresses, Flannellette, Galatea, etc.; and other fabrics below cost—a poster and tickets will be in the window, reading: "Your Choice per Yard at 25c."
